Improve your practice's image with friendly and professional appointment reminders.

NetReminder Automated Patient Messaging allows any practice using NetPracticePM™ to automatically call patients with a personalized voice reminder of their appointments or a message of cancellation. NetReminder utilizes the Internet to help deliver this service, eliminating the need to purchase expensive equipment and telephone lines.

Our clients have found that NetReminder's consistently upbeat human voice message is just as successful with patients as having staff make reminder calls. Your staff can now spend their time more efficiently to help improve the way you deliver healthcare. If you aren't reminding patients of appointments, you are losing revenue. If you are calling them, NetReminder can do it more cost-effectively.
